ICA WEBINAR

13 APRIL 2022

Advancements in curative medicine in India in the last sixty years, improved the health of population to considerable heights but we failed to achieve needed preventive care and equitable distribution of care to all. Non availability of high end care at government hospitals and increasing cost of same at corporate hospitals make the average person non beneficiary to the achievements. More than that un- ethical care extended to victims of irrevocable illness or terminal illness reduce country's resources.

Life is precious to all and care definitely has to be extended in deserving. In this presentation, Padma Sri Dr M R Rajagopal address the unwanted care given in terminal illness depriving the services for another needed, value of death, end of life care, laws and services optimally suited, happiness index, euthanasia's applicable in India, education of health care workers and general public on death, leading to suggestion "how we could avoid dying in misery as well as to live and die with dignity".
